D., March 13, 1873 At a stated meeting of the Massachusetts Historical Society, on the evening of the 13th of March, 1873, at the house of their associate, R. M. Mason, Esq.; the President, the Hon. Robert C. Winthrop, spoke as follows: - Gentlemen or the Massachusetts Historical Society: We have so recently been called to attend the funeral of our late venerable Senior Member and former President, the Hon. James Savage, that it is only as a matter for record that his death, on Saturday, the 8th inst., requires any formal announcement to the Society this evening. I need hardly say that we cannot consider it a subject for the expression of sorrow. Even those nearest and dearest to him, who have so tenderly watched over him in his infirmities, during the last eight or nine years, must have abundant consolation for their bereavement. We may all, indeed, have found cause for satisfaction and gratitude, as we learned that, in the good providence of God, our aged friend was at length happily released from the burdens of the flesh, and of the spirit, which have weighed upon him so heavily since he had come to fourscore years.
