HOW PEOPLE TRAVEL WHERE THERE ARE NO ROADS, FIND THEIR WAY WHERE THERE ARE NO SIGNPOSTS, AND KNOW HOW FAR THEY HAVE JOURNEYED WHERE THERE ARE NO MILESTONES. Owen was with the Captain early the next morning, when as usual, he had to repeat to the sailor the greater part of their conversation of the previous day, before he could get his oblivious old tutor i.o remember the precise point where they had left off. This, however, was at length impressed upon the Captain s mind, when he proceeded to say, Well, then, first we ve found out, you know, that the latitude of a place is just the same number of degrees as the height of the pole of the earth is above the horizon; and secondly, that the poles of the earth are in a straight line with the poles of the world; we have settled also that a degree is the 360th part of a circle, whether the circle be large or small; consequently, the latitude of a place, north or south of the equator, must be the same number of degrees as the north or south pole of the heavens appears to be raised above the horizon. So, you see, we ve only to measure how many degrees high the fixed point in the heavens, which the stars revolve about, seems to stand above the horizon, in order to know the latitude of any place we may...
