Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from An Algebra: For Secondary Schools The presentation of a new text on elementary algebra to the public demands justification. It is the author s earnest hope that this book will fill a need felt by many teachers for a book that is at once thoroughly modern, yet conservative of what was good in the older text-books. The drill afforded by the older texts will not be found wanting. The exercises in all instances are numerous, especially in those topics where drill work is needed to develop technique. It is strongly recommended that not all the examples in all the lists be solved on first reading, for the lists have been prepared with a view to reviews, for which some of the exercises should be saved. Omissions from the text, as well as from the exercises, are to be encouraged. The inclination to do everything between the covers of a book-is one of the vicious tendencies of the days when teachers were drillmasters only. Rather let what is done be done with extreme thoroughness. It is probably as valuable a fact as any other which the student may learn that not all of algebra is contained in this or any other book whatsoever; he should be left with the distinct impression that there are many things which he has yet to learn, - among them, perhaps, some of the topics in this book. The distinctive features of the book are matters of detail. No one favorite principle or prejudice has guided the author, unless it be a desire to speak the truth, which is often found an inconvenience.
